Subject: INQ 16-32 Robert Feldmann, Partner RSM US LLP (Lobbyist Registration)

Robert Feldmann, partner at RSM US LLP, a company that is competing for a County contract, inquired about the lobbyist registration requirements for persons in his company who may be appearing as part of the lobbying team, including technical experts. I informed him that persons who were not involved in actual lobbying activity but were present only to answer technical questions or who were addressing technical issues within their expertise during public meetings would not need to be registered under Section 2-11.1(s). Also, persons who would be making an appearance only as part of a presentation team to an evaluation or selection committee would not need to register provided that their names were included on the County affidavit filed at such meetings.
