You have the right department. It is perfectly acceptable for you to work as a qualifier for the County and also qualify your own company outside Miami-Dade County. However, the ethics rules prohibit you from qualifying any company in Miami-Dade County unless you are doing it in your capacity as a county employer.

If you have any additional questions, please forward them to me at your convenience.

Thanks,

Robert Meyers, Executive Director
Miami-Dade Commission on Ethics and Public Trust

Subject: Question

The following is an e-mail forwarded to your department several weeks ago and I have not received a response back. How can I get a response to my concerns or do I have the wrong department?

I presently employed by the County and will have an opportunity to be promoted to position as a Section Manager in Construction Management. I presently hold an inactive State Building Contractors License. In this position, This will intel qualifying the county to pull permits for the section. According to the Sate, I believe that you can qualify more that one company, but can I be a qualifier for the county and also qualify my own company outside the county. Can you give me the specifics on the rules or guide me in the right direction. This will have a determination on my decision to apply for this position.

Thank You for Your Help
