ING 06-148

Ms. Washington,

Under the circumstances, the managers can go and would only have to report the value of the reception if its totals more than $100 per individual.

If you have any other questions, please feel free to contact me at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Robert Meyers, Executive Director
Miami-Dade Commission on Ethics and Public Trust

Ms. Washington,

Is the reception local? If the reception is local, I see no reason why the managers cannot attend. If the event is out of the area, it would depend upon who is paying the travel expenses of the employees who will be attending the event.

Once you provide me with this information, I can give you a final opinion.

Sincerely,

Robert Meyers, Executive Director

One of our service providers is receiving an industry award. A couple of managers have been invited to the reception.

Is it ethical to attend this event?
