

ETHICS

INQ 03-23

From: ETHICS
Sent: Monday, March 17, 2003 3:11 PM
To: 'Maria Guzman'
Subject: RE: QUESTION

Maria,

There is no embarrassment clause, although I'm exactly certain what you mean by that term. Secondly, you may bid on the Police Dogs proposal. The only potential problem is if you were awarded the contract and part of your responsibilities under the contract required you to perform services in the municipality where you are employed.

If you have any additional questions, please forward them to me at your convenience.

Thanks,

Robert

-----Original Message-----

From: Maria Guzman [mailto:MariaGuzman@MetroDadeK9.com]
Sent: Sunday, March 16, 2003 11:19 PM
To: ethics@miamidade.gov
Subject: QUESTION

Hello:

I would like to know if a person whom works as a K9 officer with another municipality in Miami Dade County would be a conflict of interest to bid on upcoming Police Dog bid requests for the county.

Also, is there an embarrassment clause on your code?

Sincerely,
Maria

 Incredimail - Email has finally evolved - Click Here