Andrew,

After giving this considerable thought, I do not feel there is a conflict if she teaches an undergraduate ethics courses in a county building to county employees. I say this because the content of the course is considerably different from the content of the ethics training she conducts for the county.

Please contact me if you have any additional questions.

Thanks,

Robert

Robert:

The course she will be teaching will be here in SPCC. FIU will provide the course materials (fully accredited FIU program - BPA). Where do I go from here, and is this is a potential conflict?

Hi Andrew,

I think it is fine for her to teach an ethics course at FIU on a part-time basis and receive compensation provided she teaches the course on one of the FIU campuses or any off-campus site with the exception of a County building. As I see it, any university course on ethics is much more involved than simply covering material that is part of the county's ethics training program.

If you have any additional questions, please feel free to contact me.

Thanks,

Robert

Hello Robert:

How are you doing? An employee of mine (Rina Gomez) has accepted a part-time job at FIU teaching Ethics. She has completed an outside employment form and has received all required signatures for approval. Can you see any other perceived conflict(s) with this part-time job? As you know, we do business with FIU (MPA, BPA and other certificate programs).

Please let me know, and thanks.
