Input sought on proposed event ticket guidelines

The Miami-Dade Commission on Ethics and Public Trust will take public comment on a draft report containing proposed guidelines and recommendations governing the solicitation, receipt and distribution by public officials of complimentary tickets to arts, sports or other private events.

The discussion will be the first item on the agenda for the Ethics Commission's regular meeting, set for 10 a.m., Thursday, March 1, 2012, in Suite 820, 19 W. Flagler Street in Downtown Miami. The report is available on the Ethics Commission website: www.MiamiDadeEthics.com.

The Ethics Commission was created in 1996 as an independent agency with advisory and quasi-judicial powers. It is composed of five members, serving staggered terms of four years each. Through a program of education, outreach and enforcement, the Commission seeks to empower the community and bolster public trust.
