Tom,

One obvious conflict comes to mind – any matter the retired employee worked on while he was employed by the Property Appraiser that could come before him as a special master. Other than that, the Two Year Rule (prohibiting former County employees from lobbying the County for two years) would not apply. As I understand it, the VAB special master is County appointment and the former Property Appraiser employee would be retained on a contractual basis. If I am mistaken relative to any of these facts, please get back to me at your earliest convenience.

Thanks,

Robert

A retiring Property Appraiser employee has asked me whether any conflict provisions prevent him from working as a VAB special master hearing property tax appeals. Do you have any insight in this regard? Could he work as a hearing examiner for the 8CC administrative boards? Let me know when you have a moment.
