Subject: RE: Financial Disclosure/ animal services foundation

Ms. Moore:

I agree with Mr. Kerbel's assessment. Individuals who sit on a foundation board are not required to comply with the financial disclosure requirement contained in the county's ethics ordinance.

Please feel free to contact me should you have any additional questions.

Thanks,

Robert Meyers, Executive Director
Miami-Dade Commission on Ethics and Public Trust

Mr. Meyers,

Please review the correspondence below and confirm as to whether the Animal Services Foundation's members do not need to file financial disclosures.

This is very upsetting!!! I just made everyone do the financial disclosure at the direction of the COC. Please let me know if your office has a different interpretation. This is our first board for the Animal Services Foundation and the last thing I want to do is waste their time.

The Animal Services Foundation is not a County board as defined in Article IB of the Code, and the authorizing resolution does not require the filing of a financial disclosure form. Accordingly, I do not believe financial disclosure is required.

Dr. P,

You may not have this answer, but I don't see how the Foundation board members fit into any of the categories that require financial disclosure. We are not a subdivision of the county. As I understand it, we are entirely independent.

Do you want me to contact Dennis?
