Ms. Samuels

You have inquired regarding whether there is a cap on acceptance of gifts by municipal officials or employees. As you have noted, any gift in excess of $100 must be reported on the Miami-Dade County Quarterly Gift Disclosure Form per Section 2-11.1(e)(4). For municipal officials required to file Financial Disclosure under Chapter 112, Florida Statutes, there is also a $100 threshold for reporting of gifts.

There is no cap or upper threshold under Miami-Dade County Ordinance for the acceptance of gifts. However, the larger the gift that is accepted by a public official or employee that is in any way related to the duties of that person's public position, the more likely it is that such gift will be scrutinized under Section 2-11.1(e)(3) or under State Bribery/Unlawful Compensation criminal statutes, or under Section 112.313(4) (Unauthorized Compensation) as an illegal gift intended to influence a decision made a public official or public employee in connection with his or her official duties.

Further, for those who are required to report under Chapter 112, Florida Statutes, which includes all elected officials, as well as designated reporting individuals and procurement employees, Section 112.3148(4) prohibits acceptance of a gift in excess of $100 from a vendor of the government agency, a lobbyist who lobbies the government agency, or a political committee.

Please contact me should you have any further questions.

Sincerely,

Joseph M. Centorino

Subject: Gift Disclosures

Good morning –

I am aware that any gift in excess of $100 must be reported using the Miami-Dade County Quarterly Gift Disclosure form. However, I have a quick question. Is there a cap for the monetary value of gifts?

Thanks so much for your assistance with this.
