Clean Campaign Class set for South Miami

Candidates, campaign workers and politically active citizens involved in local elections are encouraged to attend the "Clean Campaign Class" sponsored by the Miami-Dade Commission on Ethics and Public Trust on Monday evening, September 21, 2015, in South Miami City Hall.

Votes are scheduled in Miami-Dade's largest cities -- Miami, Miami Beach, Hialeah and Homestead -- during the next few months, but this class is geared toward those earlier in their campaigns. Candidates and campaign workers involved in elections during 2016 (Florida City, South Miami, Indian Creek, Surfside, Bay Harbor Islands, West Miami, Key Biscayne, Miami Gardens, Aventura, Bal Harbour, Biscayne Park, Cutler Bay, Doral, El Portal, Medley, Miami Lakes, North Bay Village, Opa-Locka, Palmetto Bay, Pinecrest, and Sunny Isles Beach, as well as district, judicial and County-wide posts) can learn how to properly open campaign accounts and start off on an ethical path.

The two-hour seminar, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., will feature representatives from the Ethics Commission and the Elections Department who will provide essential information to avoid legal pitfalls, correctly raise and report funds, properly keep records and understand the legal and ethical obligations of seeking public office.

The class is free and open to the public. Attorneys can earn Continuing Legal Education credits from the Florida Bar.
