Commissioner Suarez:

I do not see any problem under the Florida Sunshine Law with your publishing on your Twitter account an article written by Chairman Monestine, without any qualifying contents. Assuming that the article is already in the public domain, I do not see any problem with your accessing it and then distributing it yourself. I would copy the Clerk of the County Commission on any social media communication that you send out so that your "tweet" of the article will be maintained as a public record in the County.

Sincerely,

Joseph M. Centorino
Executive Director and General Counsel
Miami-Dade Commission on Ethics and Public Trust

Good morning,

As a modification to my last inquiry, I want to clarify that I have the right to republish in my Twitter account an article written by one of my colleagues.

By way of example, today I "re-tweeted" the article by Chairman Monestime with no qualifying comments.

Please advise.
