Subject: INQ 15-141 Heidi Siegel, Village Manager, Village of Biscayne Park

Diana Walker, Assistant to Heidi Siegel, Village Manager for the Village of Biscayne Park, inquired regarding whether the City Manager would be required to complete ethics training under County or State requirements. I informed her that County ethics training requirements applied to County employees, not municipal employees. Municipal elected officials are required under both County ordinance and State law to receive ethics training, as well as advisory board members. Municipal managers would not be required to receive ethics training, although it is always advisable that they attend ethics training together with their elected officials.
