Subject: RE: Opinion focus survey participation fee

Mr. Lewis:

Staff counsel and I talked this over and we agree that you may participate and accept the fee. It really doesn't amount to a gift. We see it as a payment for services rendered.

If you have any other concerns, please contact me.

Pursuant to our discussion, I have been asked to attend a focus group discussion conducted by National Opinion Research Services, a private market research company engaged by Florida Power and Light. The discussion is focused on big business and its opinion of FPL services. I was asked to attend presumably because of my involvement in coordination of the Miami-Dade Park and Recreation Department utility function.

Participants in the discussion are to be paid a fee of $125. I wondering if it is appropriate for me to accept this participation fee. I very much appreciate your opinion on this issue, as this discussion is to be held at 6 pm this afternoon. timely.

Thank you for your assistance.
