I received a telephone call from Lourdes, an aide to County Commissioner Sosa, who asked about reporting an item on the commissioner's financial disclosure form. The Commissioner has an ownership interest in a duplex. The duplex is actually own by a corporation and the commissioner is one of the principals. The question is whether Commissioner Sosa may report the stock value of the corporation, its sole asset is the duplex, on her financial disclosure form. I advised Commissioner Sosa's aide that she would be complying with the financial disclosure requirements by reporting the corporation's stock value on her financial disclosure form.
