Mr. Foeman,

In your letter of September 27, 2012, you asked if financial disclosure requirements applied to students serving on the Coral Gables University of Miami Community Relations Committee. The answer is YES, financial disclosure requirements apply if the students are 18 years old or older.

The rationale is that only minors should be given the benefit of limited legal responsibilities and greater legal protections. See INQ 10-123, to Pine Crest Village Clerk Guido Inguanzo, Jr., regarding Youth Advisory Council members.

If the University students qualify as “dependent students” claimed by their parents on IRS filings, the students should file the County Source of Income Statement indicating their personal income, if any, or “zero” if none. Assets and liabilities are not listed on the County form. Students are not required to submit information about their parents’ finances.

If you have additional questions, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

VICTORIA FRIGO, STAFF ATTORNEY
