Eve Boutsis called. Fuddruckers is opening in Palmetto Bay. They have a temporary certificate of occupancy and will be applying to obtain a permanent certificate soon. They have invited all village personnel to a pre-grand opening this weekend and Eve wanted to know if this is permissible. I told her that because all village personnel are being invited and it is to a minimally priced hamburger lunch, we do not believe that acceptance by a village employee/elected official would constitute a violation of the Ethics Code. Further, there is no gift disclosure issue as the cost of the meal will be nowhere near $100.
