Subject: INQ - David Murray, Assistant County Attorney (Cone of Silence)

Assistant County Attorney David Murray inquired regarding whether a member of the Airport Advisory Commission at MIA could communicate with a selection committee member on a selection committee formed to recommend an applicant to an RFQ for a consulting contract at MIA. The successful applicant will act as a consultant to MIA and act as a liaison between the Airport Advisory Commission and the County. The Airport Advisory Commission is an informal group of airline representatives, formed by contractual arrangements with the airlines and not a formal County Advisory Board. The selection committee member that some of them want to communicate with is the sole airline representative on the selection committee. Although the members of the advisory group are not involved as applicants for the position, I advised that, due to the closeness of their relationship to the position, their obvious interest in it, and the likelihood that they may have a business or other relationship with an applicant for the consulting position, it would not be appropriate to permit such communication while the Cone of Silence is in place.
